

האוניברסיטה
העברית
בירושלים
THE HEBREW
UNIVERSITY
OF JERUSALEM

The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Faculty of Law

International Graduate Programs

M.A. Program in Human Rights and Transitional Justice

The Law Faculty invites applications for its one-year M.A. in Human Rights and Transitional Justice offered to graduates of B.A. programs in political science, international relations and other academic disciplines related to the fields of human rights and transitional justice.

- Program taught in English.
- Diverse academic courses on international humanitarian law, counter-terrorism law, international courts and tribunals, transitional justice, the law of the United Nations, legal aspects of the Middle-East conflict, international criminal law, and international human rights law.
- The Faculty comprises of top academics and practitioners, including past and present members of the UN Human Rights Committee, legal advisers for governments and international organizations such as the UN and the ICRC.
- The Program offers an excellent study program in an intellectually stimulating environment at a top-notch university.

LL.M. Program in Human Rights and International Law

The LL.M. Program in Human Rights and International Law offers a rich, advanced course of study in fields that constitute an important part of the Hebrew University's long-standing reputation of academic excellence, and in which the Faculty of Law is a hub of international activity.

- Program taught in English.
- The program offers students a wide variety of specialized courses in the main fields of international law – international organizations, conflict resolution, the laws of war, immigration law, international criminal law, and in key areas of human rights law.
- Delivered by a strong faculty, comprised of top academics and practitioners, including past and present legal advisors to international organizations, members of international expert bodies, government and NGO lawyers.
- The program offers a unique experience to would-be academics, lawyers and employees in the governmental and non-governmental sectors.

M.A. / LL.M. Program in International Law and Conflict Resolution

The Faculty of Law together with the Swiss Center for Conflict Research, Management and Resolution at the Faculty of Social Sciences invite applications for the one-year M.A./LL.M. in International Law and Conflict Resolution in English:

- Program taught in English.
- Open to graduates of programs in relevant fields, such as international relations, law, political science, communications, psychology, conflict settlement, sociology, history and Middle East studies, who have studied in Israel or abroad.
- The program is devoted to studying the sources and causes of domestic and external conflicts in general and in Israel in particular. It explores the methods, techniques and strategies that can help manage and resolve these conflicts from different disciplinary points of view, including international relations, law, political science, social psychology, communication and media studies and sociology.
- The Faculty in the program will include leading experts from Israel, as well as leading international experts.
- The program will equip students with first-rate knowledge and skills that will help them develop careers in governmental foreign services, in policy think tanks and research centers, in international organizations and NGOs dealing with conflict resolution and reconciliation, in academic institutes and universities, in the media and in other leadership positions.

Additional Information:

Tuition

The tuition for all international graduate programs is $16,000. The tuition includes extracurricular activities and health insurance. Accommodation in the dorms are an additional cost. Scholarships and stipends are available to qualified students.

Orientation

A 3-day orientation program will take place one week prior to the start of the semester. During the orientation, students will be given tours of the university campus, the Supreme Court and the City of Jerusalem. Academic information will be provided as well.

Housing

Modern, comfortable dorms are offered at the Mount Scopus Student Village. All students are guaranteed student housing.

Sports Facilities

The university has a modern sports center, located near the campus, with a well-equipped and spacious gym, swimming pool, tennis courts and dance studios.

All programs are run in cooperation with the Rothberg International School.

Contact Us:

For additional information-

Ms. Shanie Rabinowitz, International Programs Coordinator:

shaniebe@savion.huji.ac.il

Website: <http://en.law.huji.ac.il/book/academic-programs>

Visit us on Facebook: @LLMLawProgramsEnglishhuji

