

The Minerva Center for Human Rights at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and its "Human Rights under Pressure" Joint PhD Program with Freie Universität Berlin, together with the Cyber Security Research Center at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem's Faculty of Law, invite the public to a lecture:

"Privacy, Personality and Progress on Surveillance"

Prof. Joe Cannataci

United Nations Special Rapporteur on the right to privacy;
Head of the Department of Information Policy & Governance, University of Malta;
Chair in European Information Policy & Technology Law, University of Groningen

Wednesday | June 13, 2018 | 17:30-19:00

(Gathering and Refreshments from 17:00)

Beit Maierdorf • Mount Scopus Campus • Jerusalem

Chair:

Prof. Yuval Shany

Hersch Lauterpacht Chair in Public International Law;

Director, Cyber Security Research Center, Faculty of Law, Hebrew University of Jerusalem

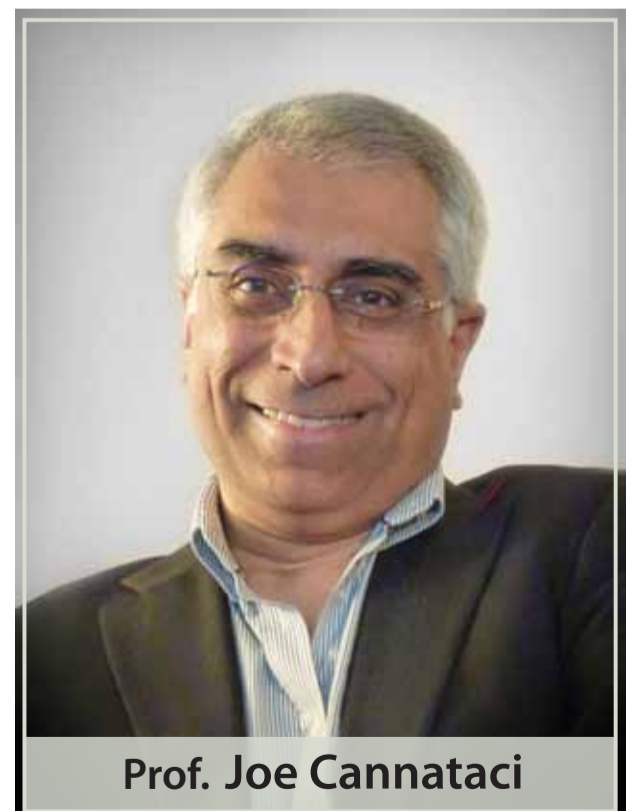

Do I really have a right to the free unhindered, development of my personality?

Is this what my right to privacy is all about?

Where does government-led surveillance figure in all of this?

These are only some of the many questions that Joe Cannataci will ask - and sometimes answer - as he brings us up to date as to what has been happening with the EU-supported MAPPING initiative which has produced a draft legal instrument on "Surveillance and Privacy" as well as why he advised UN member states to tread carefully when he delivered his latest report to the UN Human Rights Council on 5th March 2018.

In a speech that will range from the latest EU approaches to e-evidence to the proposed US CLOUD Act, the UN Special Rapporteur on Privacy will explore the dangers of providing yet another legal basis according US law enforcement and intelligence cross-border snooping rights which potentially undermine the principles of proportionality and necessity required under international law.

Prof. Joe Cannataci

Please pre-register: <https://goo.gl/forms/5xpyqfgopWgNz9Ze2>

For additional information: mchr@savion.huji.ac.il or 02-5881156